FALL 2018

SIGMA CHI FRATERNITY AT AUBURN UNIVERSITY

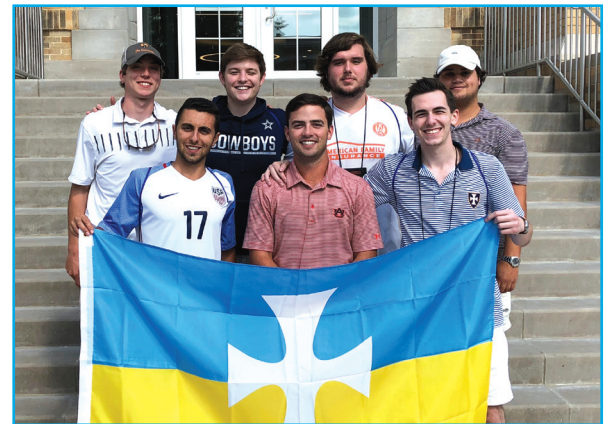

On the Road to Rechartering

Greetings brothers. Welcome to our newest version of The Auburn Sig. It is great to be able to communicate with you. We are so happy to be where we are in the process of bringing Sigma Chi back to Auburn's campus.

It seems appropriate at this point that we should address where we were, where we are now, and where we are going. As many of you know, Gamma Sigma lost its Sigma Chi charter in the fall of 2013 following an investigation into allegations of hazing. Summer 2017 the Sigma Chi Gamma colony of Sigma Chi was born. Fall recruitment 2017 led to 17 new pledges. Winter recruitment added another four. This fall 2018, we had an additional 17 young men of different talents, temperaments, and convictions pledge Sigma Chi.

Where are we now? Sigma Chi is back and determined to be Auburn's preeminent, values-based leadership development fraternity. We intend to fully embrace the values of Sigma Chi as set forth in our ritual and the values of Auburn University as set forth in the Auburn Creed. The Sigma Chi colony has adopted a zero tolerance policy for hazing, drug use, and alcohol abuse. We are a select group of individuals with an emphasis on scholastic achievement, philanthropy, and leadership roles on the Auburn University campus. We are working hand in hand with Sigma Chi as we restore Gamma Sigma's charter. The national leadership of our fraternity has many things to offer in the form of training opportunities for our members and the colony intends to embrace those programs.

Where are we going? If all goes as planned, we expect to complete the colonization process and be approved for the reinstallation of the Gamma Sigma Chapter in the spring of 2019. All of the current colony members will be initiated together on April 6, 2019, as determined by the Sigma Chi Executive Committee. All Gamma Sigma alumni will be invited to participate along with representatives of all of the undergraduate chapters in our province, several national officers, and members of Sigma Chi's new Chapter Development Committee. The initiation ceremony will be followed that evening by a reinstallation banquet that will include spouses, dates, parents, and university officials.

The Gamma Sigma chapter house at 737 West Magnolia will be returned to the chapter at the conclusion of spring semester 2019 and significant renovations are planned for the summer of 2019. The chapter will occupy the house in the fall of 2019. We look forward to that time as it will provide a focal point for us to renew old bonds of friendship and to establish new ones. You all can be proud to be represented by this new group of young men and the journey we are on. Financial support from all of us will be needed to complete this work.

Sigma Chi Foundation Awards Thousands in Scholarships

On Saturday, August 25, at a reception in Auburn to honor Gamma Sigma Significant Sig Jim Thompson '66, four undergraduate colony members were also awarded academic scholarships. The Sigma Chi Foundation at Auburn University, Inc. awarded four $1,000 scholarships to colony members who excelled academically and in their extracurricular activities on Auburn's campus. The recipients were, Ryan Barnes, a junior from Auburn, Ala., majoring in information systems management; Fischer Hawkins, a sophomore from Homewood, Ala., majoring in accounting; Armen Palanjian, a sophomore from Dothan, Ala., majoring in accounting; and Michael Roberts, a junior from Mobile, Ala., majoring in accounting.

Sigma Chi Gamma Reestablishes Itself as a Top Auburn Fraternity

Over the past few months, Sigma Chi Gamma has been improving across multiple fronts. Our academics, philanthropy, and brotherhood have all seen tremendous progress from a year ago. We are on the right path for success, and I look forward to seeing where this year takes us.

Sigma Chi Gamma's academics are among the best on campus. We currently rank fourth among IFC fraternities with a semester GPA of 3.29, which is an improvement from the previous semester's 3.15 GPA. Fall in the SEC compares to no other, and this fall semester looks promising for Sigma Chi Gamma. Our GPA (3.22 cumulative) earned us priority in reserving seats for football games.

Sigma Chi Gamma reestablished at Auburn University in the fall of 2017 and the campus has noticed. We have participated in philanthropy events such as Alpha Chi Omega's Walk-A-Mile in Her Shoes and the campus-wide Beat Bama Food Drive. We are also sponsoring our Sweetheart, Phi Mu Carley Bivin '19, this semester for Homecoming queen. One of our members, Michael Roberts '20, serves as the vice president for Campus Involvement (Beat Bama), and has been helping Carley with her platform supporting the food drive. Sigma Chi Gamma fully supports our sweetheart and hopes to see her become Homecoming queen this October.

The brotherly bonds made through Sigma Chi Gamma have grown stronger and deeper as we progress through colonization. To emphasize the importance of brotherhood in our colony, we have implemented 10 individual community service hours per semester. Service hours provide a mutually beneficial activity for both our members and our community; we get to spend quality time with one another while giving back to Auburn. Armen Palanjian '21 serves as a service project coordinator for IMPACT. IMPACT coordinates volunteer opportunities with 16 different community service agencies. Armen is planning two community service events for our chapter for this fall. Sigma Chi Gamma strives to earn the highest service hours-to-member ratio on campus.

The success seen at Sigma Chi Gamma could not be achieved without the help and support from our chapter advisor, Brian Snyder, Eta Phi '82, our alumni, and most importantly, our members. The Sigma Chi Fraternity teaches me something new every day and has caused me to grow as a man. I am humbled to be a part of such an elite group, and I look forward to the fall semester ahead.
